

Local students named to EKU's fall semester President's List

Seven Rockcastle Countians are among 301 students at Eastern Kentucky University named to the President's List for the Fall 2000 semester.

The list includes: Diana Bond, Elizabeth Jones, Nathaniel Bullock, Jonathan Burdette, Angie Lawless, Kevin Scott and Anita O'Neal Brown.

"We're delighted that some of Rockcastle County's best and brightest students are studying with us at Eastern," said ECU President Bob Kustra.

The President's List was established by the University to recognize outstanding academic achievement. It is bestowed upon full-time undergraduate students who attain a perfect 4.0 grade point average for a semester.

"All of us at ECU are committed to academic excellence and student success," Dr. Kustra said, "and we are pleased to recognize those students who have excelled to the point of perfection during a semester's work."

Hammond named to Dean's List at Transy

Rockcastle County High School graduate and Transylvania University senior Bethanie Hammond has been named to the Dean's List for the 2000 fall term.

To be named to the Dean's List, a student must achieve at least a 3.5 grade point average during the term. Hammond, a biology major, is the daughter of Larry and Rebekah Hammond of Mt. Vernon.

Transylvania, founded in 1780 is the nation's sixteenth oldest institution of higher learning and is consistently ranked in national publications as one of the top liberal arts colleges in the country.

Tina Hasty, clinical pharmacist at Rockcastle Hospital and Respiratory Care Center, Inc., recently completed an advanced degree earning the designation of Pharm D. Hasty graduated from the University of Kentucky College of Pharmacy in December. She also earned her undergraduate degree there, and has been employed in the RHRCC pharmacy for one year. A native of Rockcastle County, Hasty and her husband, Jerry, have one son, Garrett. She is the daughter of Lloyd and Betty Cain.

Georgetown College launches new website

Georgetown College alumni will no longer have to look very far to find an old friend, reminisce about the good old days, or find out what their classmates are up to these days. The Georgetown College Alumni Association's new website was launched today. The redesign, a product of the school's partnership with Host Communications, features a more interactive, user-friendly environment with a nostalgic Georgetown setting.

The site, found at <http://www.georgetowncollege.edu/alumni>, features updated alumni news, class notes, homecoming and other alumni event planning information, an on-line version of Insights of Georgetown College's alumni magazine, online shopping at The Store at Georgetown College, and information about the benefits of the GC Alumni Association.

"The best part of the site is the nostalgia it produces for the viewer," said Alumni Association Executive Director Logan Hillyard. "We made an effort to have something there for every alum, and I believe everyone who visits the site will be pleasantly surprised. We hope alumni of the College will start to use the site to keep track of their friends, stay in touch and involved with the Association, and even send in pictures and updates about themselves for our class notes and features sections."

The site also features the services of MyCareerNetwork.com, an on-line career networking community created by Georgetown College that allows alumni to post online resumes, search for jobs in specific fields and stay in touch with classmates from the College, their respective high school, or other alma mater.

Visitors to the site can join the alumni association; view association benefits, and volunteer time or resources to assist the College in events and fundraising efforts. The site features links to WRVG-FM, Georgetown College's 50,000-watt public radio station and the Georgetown College athletic web pages where alumni can keep track of Tiger and Lady Tiger sports. The site also features image galleries of alumni functions and allows users to update their mailing and e-mail addresses and other information in the College's database.

The Georgetown College Alumni Association is the official organization of the alumni of Georgetown College. Membership in the Association is open to all alumni, former students, and honorary-degree holders of the College, or any institution having merged into the College.

Burns earns degree from Berea College

Gary Burns was one of the 61 students at Berea College who graduated this past December. Gary graduated with a degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

The recognition service was held
