Muzzle-Loading deer season opens

The early muzzle-loading deer season is October 27 and October 28, 2001 statewide. The late muzzle-loading season is December 8 through December 14, 2001 statewide.

There are some things hunters should consider while participating in any muzzle-loading deer season.

Hunters must not take deer with a modern breech-loading firearm during muzzle-loading seasons, however, bow and crossbow equipment may be used. Anyone hunting these seasons must comply with hunter orange requirements, even if using archery equipment.

Muzzle-loading rifles or handguns of any caliber are permitted.

Muzzle-loading shotguns no larger than 10 gauge used with slugs only are permitted for muzzle-loading deer hunting. In-line muzzle-loading rifles are permitted and using telescopic sights on muzzle-loading rifles is permitted.

The tag marked antlerless/antlerless in the statewide deer permit may be used for either sex deer, but it is the only tag that may be used on antlerless deer. The antlerless tag in the statewide permit can only be used on antlerless deer.

For any questions about deer hunting or any other fall hunting seasons, consult the 2001-2002 Kentucky Hunting and Trapping Guide available wherever hunting or fishing licenses are sold. You may also request one by calling 1-800-858-1549 or you can access the guide on the internet at www.kdfr.state.ky.us.
