Lady Rockets lose in first round

The Rockcastle County Lady Rockets will not participate in the 13th regional tournament for the third straight year, after losing in the first round of the 49th district tournament on Tuesday night.

The Lady Rockets lost to Clay County 49-38.

The Lady Rockets were really never in the game, scoring only four points the first quarter and 12 the entire first half.

The Lady Tigers managed to slow the tempo down and the Lady Rockets never did seem to adjust to the slow play and it seemed the Lady Rockets basket had a lid on it for most of the game.

Clay led 8-4 at the end of the first period, 22-12 at halftime, 36-21 at the end of three periods, before putting the game away with about four minutes to play.

The Lady Rockets, who had an excellent record in the regular season with a mark of 18-7, were led in scoring by freshman Johnna Abney who had 12. Freshman Heather Hammond had seven; freshman Tara Rowe had five, senior Amber Denny had four, junior Amy Barnett had three and junior Ashley Mink had two.

Clay and the Lady Generals of Jackson County will play in the 13th regional tournament, which is being held at the Rockcastle County High School for the first time ever, starting on Monday, Jackson, Clay and Rockcastle were ranked in the top four in the 13th region before district journey play began.

Johnna Abney led the Lady Rockets with 12 points in a losing effort to Clay County Tuesday night. The loss keeps the Lady Rockets out of the region for the third straight year.

Jessie Hayes rebounds the ball for the Lady Rockets in their 49-38 loss to Clay County Tuesday night.

Tara Rowe had five points for the Lady Rockets in first round action against Clay County Tuesday night.
