Whitaker named KBN Facilitator

Orville Whitaker, a local farmer, Orville Whitaker, a local farmer, has signed on to become a "facilitator" for the Kentucky Beef Network. The Kentucky Beef Network (KBN), part of the Kentucky Cattlemen's Association, was funded with a $1.8 Association, was funded with a $1.8 million grant from the Agriculture Development Board in June 2001. The goal is to put local farmers in the field with their neighbors so that they can help them with all spects or raising healthy cattle and in turn, have profitable farms.

As a KBN Facilitator, Whitaker-will cover the counties of Garrard, Boyle, Lincoln, Madison and Rockeastle. His goal is to provide information and education to beef producers in his area with issues such s quality assurance, the environ-nent, grazing and forage manage-nent, certification, records manage-nent and value-added sales.

"I see my role as facilitator as a person who works with and supports individual cattle producers, local individual cattle producers, local cattlemen's groups and the Extension Service. I'm working to help ensure that our produces have improved herd health, better cattle handling facilities and more profitable returns; he said. He encourages everyone to call him with questions or just to talk at (600)355-2953.

Whitaker lives in the Preachersville area of Lincoln
