Ward Burton is back on top

LOUDON, N.H.—Ward Burton, who started the season off with a win at Daytona, then saw his racing turn sour, was back in victory lane Sunday after winning the Winston Cup, New England 300.

Burton started 31st in the 43-car field and passed Matt Kenseth with 10 laps to go. He took the lead in turn 1 when Kenseth's No. 17 DeWalt Ford had a tire go down, then held off Jeff Green by 2.30 seconds for his fifth career victory.

"I knew if we stayed out of trouble we could have a decent run but obviously I didn't expect this," Burton said. "On older tires that were good. Maybe Matt Kenseth was better than I was but you have to be in position to win and you were in position when it counted."

"We ran good all day and we didn't break and that's what was killing us all year."

Since winning this year's Daytona 500, Burton had only one other top-five and fell to 26th in the standings coming into Sunday's race.

Green, who started 30th, scored his career-best finish in his 77th career start.

"We had a good enough car to win the race, but Ward just got away from us on that last restart," said Green.

There were 12 cautions and many drivers blamed the track conditions. Bobby Labonte, who finished 13th was one of the more vocal ones.

"I've been coming here since 1990," said Labonte. "These are great race fans. It's a great facility. But I remember in 1990 I turned over on the back straightaway because the racetrack came apart. I was following somebody and Dale Jarrett was following me. Ricky Craven got up in the marbles, he came down the racetrack just because that is what you're supposed to do, and I got hit in the right front and turned over. That was 1990."

"They should give everybody their money back for importing a race. It was not a good race. I don't think it was a good race."

Defending race winner Dale Jarrett, who came in third, scored his first top-five in the last four races after starting 33rd. Rusty Wallace and Ryan Newman rounded out the top-five.

Folesitter Bill Elliott finished 34th.

The victory gave Dale his first ever win at the New Hampshire track. Finishing order: 1. Ward Burton, 2. Jeff Green, 3. Dale Jarrett, 4. Rusty Wallace, 5. Ryan Newman, 6. Todd Bodine, 7. Nashville drivers rough on Deborah Renshaw

Deborah Renshaw is a woman driver who finished eighth in the ARCA ReMax 500 race three weeks ago at Kentucky Speedway.

One week later, July 13, she raced at the Nashville Fairgrounds and came in sixth.

But many of the male drivers apparently resented her presence, because they took up a collection and raised $3,600, more than enough to file a protest against her engine.

The protest was allowed and after speedway tech officials finished tearing down the engine in her car, they discovered the cylinder head was too large—by less than one centimeter.

She had no other events at the track, even leading the series for a while, but this latest development got to her. She believes the male drivers are the ones that got her disqualified, and will no longer race at the Fairgrounds.

NASCAR CEO, Mike Helton telephoned and encouraged her to change her mind, saying NASCAR would not tolerate the behavior shown by some of the male drivers.

The Fairgrounds track is a NASCAR-sanctioned track and must abide by all NASCAR rules during their weekly racing programs.

ROCKCASTLE COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT PUBLIC NOTICE

Notification of Rights Under FERPA for Elementary and Secondary Institutions and Child Find

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords parents and students over 18 years of age ("eligible students") rights with respect to their education records held by the school district.

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within forty-five (45) days of the day the District receives a request for access.

Parents or eligible students should submit to the school principal/designee (or appropriate school official) a written request that identifies the record(s) they wish to inspect. The principal will make arrangements for access and notify the parent or eligible student of the time and place where the records may be inspected.

2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the parent or eligible student believes are inaccurate, misleading, or in violation of the student's privacy or other rights.

Parents or eligible students may ask the District to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate, misleading or in violation of privacy or other rights. They should write the school principal, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate, misleading, or in violation of their privacy or other rights.

If the District decides not to amend the record as requested by the parent or eligible student, the District will notify the parent or eligible student of the decision and advise them of their right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the parent or eligible student when notified of the right to a hearing.

3. The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the District as an administrator, supervisor, instructor, or support staff member (including health or medical staff and law enforcement) and personnel, a person serving on the school board, a person or company with whom the District has contracted to perform a special task (such as an attorney, auditor, medical consultant, or therapist), or a parent or student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks.

A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.

Upon request, the District discloses education records without consent to officials of another school district in which a student seeks or intends to enroll, or to other entities authorized by law to receive such records.

The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the District to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
600 Independence Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20202-4605

"Directory information" is information contained in an educational record which would not generally be considered harmful or an invasion of privacy if disclosed. This information may be released without consent. "Directory information" includes the student's name, address, telephone listing, date and place of birth, major field of study, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of members of athletic teams, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, and the most recent previous educational agency or institution attended. The parent, guardian, or eligible student currently enrolled may request that all or part of the "Directory Information" be withheld. The request must be made in writing to the Principal of the child's school within thirty (30) calendar days after the Annual FERPA

Notice has been distributed in August. The written request must specifically state what information may not be classified as "Directory Information."

The Rockcastle County School District keeps educational records in a secure computer system and in locked files in each school and Board of Education office.

For students who have been determined eligible for programs for Special Education, educational records should be destroyed at the request of the parent when they are no longer needed to provide educational programs or services. The Rockcastle County School District may destroy educational records of a child without a parent's request seven (7) years after they are no longer needed to provide educational programs or services. Parents are advised that data contained in educational records may later be needed for Social Security benefits or other purposes. The Rockcastle County School District may retain, for an indefinite period of time, a record of the student's name, address, telephone number, grades, attendance record, classes attended, grade level completed, and year completed.

Children determined eligible for Special Education include those children with disabilities who have a hearing impairment, visual impairment, emotional-behavioral disability, deaf-blindness, other health impairment, specific learning disability, mental disability, multiple disabilities, speech or language impairment, developmental delay, orthopedic impairment, autism, or traumatic brain injury, and who because of such an impairment need specially designed instruction and related services.

The Rockcastle County School District has an ongoing "Child Find" system, which is designed to locate, identify and evaluate any child residing in a home, facility, or residence within its geographical boundaries, age three (3) to twenty-one (21) years, who may have a disability and be in need of Special Education. This includes children who are in school, those who are in public, private, or home school, those who are highly mobile such as children who are migrant or homeless, and those who are advancing from grade to grade, who may not be in and not receiving Special Education.

The Rockcastle County School District will make sure any child enrolled in its district who has a disability, regardless of how severe the disability, is provided an appropriate education at no cost to the parents of the child.

Parents, relatives, public and private agency employees, and concerned citizens are urged to help the Rockcastle County School District find any child who may have a disability and need Special Education services. The District needs to know the name and age, or date of birth of the child, the name, address, and phone number of the parent or guardian; the possible disability; and other information to determine if Special Education is needed.

Letters and phone calls are some of the ways the Rockcastle County School District collects the information needed. The information the school District collects will be used to contact the parents of the child and find out if the child lives to be evaluated or referred for Special Education services.

If you know of a child who lives in Rockcastle County, who may have a disability, and may not be in receiving Special Education services, please call 606-337-7051 or send the information to:

Any information the District collects through "Child Find" is maintained confidentially.

Written Policies and Procedures have been developed which describe the District's requirements regarding the confidentiality of personally identifiable information and "Child Find" activities. There are copies in the Principal's office of each school, and in the Board of Education office. Copies of these Policies and Procedures may be obtained by contacting:

When the Special Education Director or Director of Student Services identifies a need to publish this notice in a language other than English, the Director has the notice translated and published in the other language.
