Mt. Vernon City Council

Experienced leaders in areas of law enforcement and finance provide additional strength to city government. I served the City of Mount Vernon as a police officer for four years. I earned the rank of Sergeant and served in that capacity for the last two years of my tenure. Laws protect all citizens. Cities like ours have strong, highly trained and well-organized police departments and protect the communities they serve.

As a manager at a Fortune 100 financial company, I have learned that experience also includes a willingness to move forward in technology and methods. Experience means growth and willingness to change. In order to thrive, Mount Vernon must move forward with employment and land use issues. We need to attract investors to open new businesses in our downtown area.

As an Associate Pastor at Faith Harvest Fellowship, I am constantly reminded of the need we all have to improve our lives and the willingness to commit to serve each other. As your next councilman, I commit to working for the improvements we need in our city. I will work hard to improve the quality of life for all the people of Mount Vernon.

Family is very important to me. I am so proud of my family. I respect and value their opinions. We share the same high standards about the value of family and strong convictions about service to others. We stand by each other, for what is right and best for our family.

I share the same strong set of convictions about our community. I have proven this by serving over 25 years in many civic and professional organizations. I am proud of Mount Vernon and the accomplishments we have made as a community.

I believe in:

- Community Pride -- all people working toward a beautiful place to live.
- Commitment to working full-time for the people of Mount Vernon.
- Striving for a safe, drug-free city for our residents and children.
- Leadership values and principles that enable several community service groups and leaders to work together for the common good of our area.

In my four years as Mayor of Mount Vernon, I have also served on: The Rockcastle County Economic Development Board, Georgetown College Board of Directors, Renfro Valley Entertainment Center Board, Cumberland Valley Area Development Board and the Kentucky Music Hall of Fame and Museum Board.

I will continue to represent this wonderful city -- always attempting to do what is right and best for Mount Vernon.
