

Scenes from Saturday's Christmas parades

Brookhead's antique fire truck carried Santa, (John Holbrook) into town on Saturday. The sign was donated to the city by the Rockcastle Kiwanis Club.

Jacob and Arianna Lawson got a ride from Bonnie Barron on the KTEC bus during both parades on Saturday.

Jesse McCauley and the RCHS Band marched in both parades on Saturday.

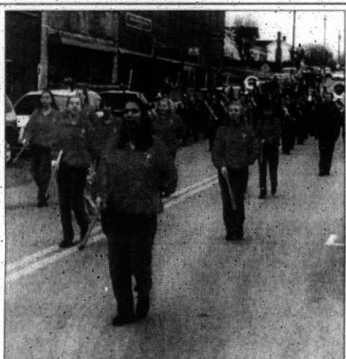

Shanna Lawton and Cub Scout members of 316 and Den 2 were all smiles Saturday at Brookhead.

The four wheelers were in full force in the Christmas parade on Saturday.

Josh Thompson of David's Tire Center participated in the E.J. Taylor Memorial parade at Brookhead on Saturday.

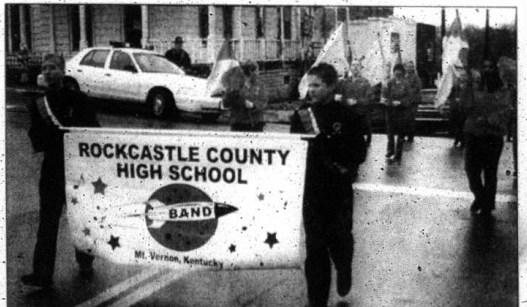

Cassi Ramsey and the RCHS Color Guard marched in the Christmas parade at Brookhead.

Brookhead council member Everett Albright waved to the crowd on Saturday, as Jackie McKinney looked on.

Ray Philbeck gave Brookhead Mayor Walter Cash a ride in Saturday's Christmas parade. Several people attended the annual E. J. Taylor Memorial parade.

The RCHS Band made their debut in the Mt. Vernon and Brookhead Christmas parades.

The E.J. Taylor family always has participated in Brookhead's Christmas parades. Saturday was no exception. The parade has been named in honor of the late Brookhead business owner.

The Boy Scouts of Rockcastle County joined in the Christmas parade at Mt. Vernon.