

Adoptable Shelter Dogs

Hello people! My name is Sasha and I am a female Blue Heeler mix. I was picked up as a drop out and I am now searching for a new home. I am very easy going and friendly with everyone I meet and I would make a wonderful lifelong companion for any type of household. (kennel 16)

Hi everyone. My name is Sadie and I am a Walker Coonhound. I am very heavy with pups and I will be having them before long and I am really excited about that. One thing I'm not so excited about is that I don't have them a home to call there own. I have been trying to find a rescue organization that will take me and my soon to be family but I cant find one that has room for us. Maybe someone out there reading this will open their heart to my babies and I and give us a chance to show you how loving and grateful we can be. Contact the shelter @ 256-1833. (kennel 19)

FFA attends Kentucky Leadership Training

Submitted by:
Tiffany Bowman

On, July 1st, the Rockcastle County FFA Chapter officers and assistants traveled to Breckenridge County to the Kentucky Leadership Training Center. Every year, for one week of the summer,

Ag. Teachers take many students to camp to teach them valuable skills, such as leadership, which they can carry home to the chapter for the year. This year, everyone had a blast, competing in athletics, making new friends, taking fun and helpful classes, and even competing in some competitions.

At the very beginning of the week, a camp counsel is chosen, and Kayla Reynolds was chosen as the Sentinel for the week. Not only that, but she was recognized as being an outstanding leader. Too, while at camp, Kayla Reynolds was chosen to be on the all-star basketball team, while Tiffany Bowman was chosen to be on the all-star volleyball team as well.

Eric Bullock competed in the camp quiz contest, where he placed second overall. Along with these achievements, Rockcastle

County was one of the chapters chosen to pre-side over a camp meeting one night, and they done an outstanding job. Congratulations to Kayla, Tiffany, Eric, and the rest of the chapter.

Kayla Reynolds was chosen as camp counsel sentinel.
